

– Shabbos Delight –

This composition, filled with David's unique multi-dimensional symbolism, contains many of the traditional items of Judaica used for welcoming Shabbat. It also includes several quotes from the bible and psalms, recognizing the significance of the festival.

The Shabbat candlestick holders may be seen three different ways. Viewing them one way, they are shofars; a second way they are hands; and a third way, they are people greeting the Shabbat angels of peace, found just above them.

The two loaves of challah bread are comprised of people, symbolically representing the challah as the "bread of life."

This piece of art also contains a day-by-day creation sequence hidden within its design.
